

FIGURE 5.9. Unequal rates of evolution. A hypothetical phylogenetic tree showing relationships among three species. The rate of evolution of the lineage leading up to species 3 has accelerated relative to that of species 2, as indicated by the longer branch leading from their common ancestor (node B).