FIGURE 13.5. Until the development of molecular markers, there were few examples of natural polymorphism with a simple genetic basis. Examples included (A) shell pattern in the snail Cepaea nemoralis and (B) melanism in the ladybird beetle, Adalia bipunctata.

Evolution © 2007 Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory Press